DonSense – by Rev. Don Garrett

June: What Does It Mean to Be a People of Blessing?

A friend once shared, "I guess after plan A fails, I need to remember there's still a whole alphabet out there."

It's not just our friend who needs help remembering that there's a whole alphabet out there; it's all of us. We all get stuck in wanting things a certain way. We all, at times, focus so intently on the few things going wrong that we completely miss the dozens of things going right. Tunnel vision too often takes over our days.

For Unitarian Universalists, this is the central tragedy of the human condition. Which is also why blessings are so central to our faith. They are, for us, a way of widening our view.

First of all, blessings are not necessarily something we give to each other as much as they involve us helping each other notice all that's already been given to us. And it's not just about widening our view to see the gifts themselves; it's about widening our understanding of life. Pointing to blessings repairs our relationship with life, allowing us to see it as generous – not threatening – full of grace-filled surprises not dominated by a cold indifference.

And there's a lot at stake when it comes to this wider view. When the world seems stingy to us, we are stingy to others. Those who feel blessed have little trouble passing blessings on. Our tradition takes this calculus seriously. As UU minister, Rev. Don Wheat, puts it "The religious person is a grateful person, and the grateful person is the generous person." In short, by noticing our blessings, we become a blessing.

So this month the question in front of all of us is not simply "Do you notice the blessings surrounding you?" It's also, "How are the blessings in your life leading you to bless others?" Blessings don't just fill us up; they cause us to overflow. In other words, blessings don't just enrich us; they connect us. And that may be the greatest blessing of all.

See you in church.

– Don

FROM THE PRESIDENT

OUR 2017-18 YEAR

It's been an interesting year for our congregation. Some major activities have been started and some completed.

The one which will have the most impact on us is the Transformational Planning initiative towards our becoming a Welcoming Organization headed by Janice Lovegrove. This involved working with the Board to make it more cohesive and trusting and then expanding to involve the congregation in developing our mission/direction and elements that will make us more welcoming, both between members and with new people. It has involved training the Board, selection and training of a ten member Action Planning Team (APT) and holding a congregational retreat to solicit ideas for future growth to be incorporated in plans for the future. This initiative has had invaluable support from Cecilia Eberhard.

In conjunction with this, a congregational survey was developed and taken to gather data about our congregation for general use and for the APT. This was coordinated by the Church Planning Committee of Janice, Ann Sheridan, Tom Zimmerman and yours truly.

The next big event that should be completed this month is our new elevator. This will be a great help to our handicapped. This is the culmination of a lot of work by Bernie Bujnowski and his team, Pat Herring and Michael Benning.

A lot of people contributed to parts of our new web-site headed by Eric Lee, the technical guru and Tom Zimmerman, our web master. We are hopeful that this new site will be a much better representation of the true meaning of our faith and will entice the outside world to come visit us.

The Property Committee, with Dora Davenport's lead, has overseen the several activities that involve our building, including wall repairs; window repairs and changes; kitchen floor replacement and new projects such as making the Wall Street door easier to open, new handicap parking in the back of the church and sidewalk repairs.

A new Pastoral Care program has been initiated and is working well with Rev. Robin Capoor and Rev. Don at the helm.

Other activities included updating the office computer program and revising the Personnel Manual, thanks to Ellen Bell.

The Board and I want to thank everyone for their contribution to our successful year. Our thanks to all the committee members, committee chairs, our staff and the many volunteers for their contribution of time and energy.

Thanks to each of you.

ACTION PLANNING TEAM CONTINUES WORK ON STRATEGIC PLAN

Following up on the very successful and well-attended Congregational Retreat on April 22nd, your Action Planning Team reviewed the ideas generated during that event at our meeting on June 12th. We did a SWOT analysis (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats) as we continued our work toward the development and implementation of a Strategic Plan. We will continue to keep you posted on our progress and will look to you for feedback as we move forward. Our goal is to complete our work by the fall and submit the plan to you, the congregation, for approval at a special congregational meeting in the fall. In the meanwhile, please feel free to contact any member of the Action Planning Team if you have questions or comments. We are: Sarah Carlson, Barbara Diamant, Seth Finkle, Diana Lormand, Amy Nyberg, David Shields, Beth Taylor, Chuck West, Salli Wood, Tom Zimmerman, and Rev. Don.

The Future: Colonizing the Galaxy, Human-level Intelligence, Immortality—and a Good Pickle

Frank Stone, Presenter

Where did the pickle come from? When George on the Jerry Seinfeld show went on and on about all the things he never experienced, Jerry replied that he never had a really good pickle. For the fun of it, let's delve into the minds of the futurists to discover what experiences they believe may await humanity. Spoiler alert: a good pickle isn't among them.

Human Rights Campaign (HRC) Rising

Oliver Hartman, Presenter

HRC Rising is a national campaign focusing on six key states: Ohio, Nevada, Michigan, Wisconsin, Arizona and Pennsylvania. Right here in Pennsylvania, we are focusing on key regions that will turn the tide for 2018 and beyond, and building Regional Equality Action Councils made up of ordinary people looking to do extraordinary things. Together, we are going to get out the vote and unify the state in a historic movement that will strengthen community bonds, offer unique opportunities for leadership development and training, and save lives.

Judaism & Race: The Complex and Confusing Ways Jewish People Fit in America's Racial landscape

Dan Poresky, Presenter

We will listen to a provocative 30 minute NPR program (augmented with slides) that explores questions such as: Is Judaism primarily a religion? Are Jews a race, an ethnicity, a culture? Are Jews white people? If Jews can be any, all, or none of those things, what makes a Jew Jewish and why are they collectively hated by white supremacists as demonstrated last August at the Unite the Right rally in Charlottesville, Virginia? It should make for lively discussion.

FROM THE LIFESPAN EDUCATION COORDINATOR

It's hard to believe another year of RE has concluded. Thank you to all the members and friends that volunteered to teach, assist, advise or otherwise help to make the program a success. A few long-time members who haven't been involved in RE for a while joined the team as classroom assistants. Their work, although it may have felt minimal, was crucial in allowing our teachers to have a few more Sundays away from the classroom. When you receive an invitation to join the team for 2018-19, I hope you will consider saying yes.

Each year provides new challenges in terms of class size and staffing. Next year is no exception. The Our Whole Lives class will have 10 or 12 students. For us, that is huge. Some of the OWL teachers won't be available because they have a child in the program. We are fortunate we have plenty of trained teachers, so that shouldn't be a problem.

Our 5th and 6th grade class has the opposite problem – only 3 or 4 students in that age group. The primary and elementary grades (K-4th) will be combined into one Spirit Play class. Spirit Play provides a structure that allows for that wide a range in ages. The children will gather for the chalice lighting and story and then we can utilize two classrooms for art and craft activities for different learning styles and ages.

The RE committee will be exploring ways to do community outreach (marketing) to get the word out about our affirming, values based religious education program. I am confident that if more parents in the Lehigh Valley discover what we have to offer, they would jump at the chance to give their children this experience. Our task as a RE committee and as a congregation is to provide high quality programs and a welcoming environment so that visitors feel at home the moment they explore our web site and enter our building.

On June 24, we will be reviving a dormant UUCLV tradition, Soapbox Sunday. As Unitarian Universalist we take pride in our "open mindedness" and our "free and responsible search for truth and meaning." Soapbox Sunday offers an opportunity for speakers to sound off on nearly any issue.

Do you have a hero? This could be a time to share a short speech or important quotes that have been meaningful to you and you believe would be important to others. Speakers will spend four minutes max (yes, there will be hook) expounding on a matter of heartfelt importance to them (no personal attacks or political endorsements.) If you are interested in participating, please send an email with your topic to Marie Tweed at mariewin3@gmail.com by June 8. Due to time constraints, no more than five speakers will have access to the pulpit. I will be in contact with all who wish to participate. — Marie Tweed

WATCH THIS SPACE

“Watch This Space” is presented by UUCLV’s Property Committee for the 2018-2019 year. Starting off, we want you to know that two of the staircases and one landing entering into our church building from the Wall Street door to the sanctuary will be transformed, refinished and repainted to create an aesthetically pleasing area.

We have an estimate from a painter who has done other projects within our church walls. We hope to get this project started and completed during the summer while there is less foot traffic in the area.

Throughout this church year, there will be other

“Watch This Space” articles and pictures of the improvements to our church facility. Keep your eyes open; our church is being transformed.
